Orthopaedic Institute of Dayton Joins OrthoAlliance

Furthering Patient Access and Enhancing Patient Care

CINCINNATI – Orthopaedic Institute of Dayton (OID) has joined one of the nation’s leading orthopaedic management services organizations, OrthoAlliance (OA). The new relationship aligns OID with Beacon Orthopaedics & Sports Medicine, a world-class center for orthopedic care and the founding practice of OrthoAlliance. While OID leadership and staff continue to focus on providing extraordinary patient care and day-to-day operations, OrthoAlliance is now delivering important administrative and clinical support for the growing practice.

The partnership adds three locations and ten physicians to OA’s expanding network and will enhance access to OID’s patient-centered approach to delivering the highest quality care.

“Joining OrthoAlliance allows us to further our mission of providing the highest quality patient care while employing the newest surgical and medical advances to benefit our patients.” Said Kevin Paley, M.D., President of OID and Orthopaedic Surgeon. “We’ve been treating Dayton area families for over 50 years. This new partnership will allow us to expand our services and provide even greater patient access.”

Based in Cincinnati, OA is a management services organization formed in partnership with leading Midwest physician practices and Revelstoke Capital Partners, a Denver-based private equity firm. The company is building one of the country’s leading orthopedic management organizations, providing operations, marketing, and patient experience expertise and resources to partner practices working at the forefront of life-changing advances in orthopedics and sports medicine.

In just the last few years, OA has grown quickly to more than 110 physicians and 1,500 employees.

“At OrthoAlliance, we continue to build a network of like-minded orthopedic and sports medicine experts who are passionate about our mission to provide patients instant access to high-quality and low-cost care.” said OA CEO Andy Blankemeyer. “We are proud to welcome the Orthopaedic Institute of Dayton to the OrthoAlliance family. Under this new partnership, OID physicians will continue to deliver their patients with the high-quality care they have provided for over 50 years. We are excited about the future of our new partnership and the future of outpatient orthopedic medicine in the region.”

Patients will experience no changes in the doctors they trust or the services they rely on from Orthopaedic Institute of Dayton. Patients will benefit from greater access to the latest surgical and medical advances as well as additional resources and investment as we move into the future.

"With this partnership, and OrthoAlliance's proven track record, we will be able to expand while creating new career and development opportunities for our employees," Dr. Paley said.
